

Parents' Bill of Rights

Each child's maximum potential can best be achieved through a partnership between parents and the education community. To foster active engagement between parents and schools, parents have certain rights and responsibilities

All Parents Have the Right to:

1) A Free Public School Education

Parents have the right to a free public school education for their child in a safe and supportive learning environment.

Parents have the right to:

- a) a free public school education for their child, from kindergarten until age 21, or receipt of a high school diploma, whichever comes first, as provided by law;
- b) an evaluation for their child with a disability and, if found to be in need of special education, receive a free, appropriate education from age 3 through age 21, in accordance with applicable laws and regulations;
- c) bilingual education or English as a Second Language services, for their child with limited English proficiency, as required by law and regulations;
- d) have their child receive his or her full instructional schedule in accordance with the Department of Education school year calendar;
- e) have their child learn in a safe and supportive learning environment, free from discrimination, harassment, bullying, and bigotry;
- f) have their child receive courtesy and respect from others and equal educational opportunities regardless of actual or perceived race, color, religion, age, creed, ethnicity, national origin, alienage, citizenship status, disability, sexual orientation, gender (sex) or weight;
- g) have a child accorded all the rights set forth in the Bill of Student Rights and Responsibilities found within the New York City Department of Education's Citywide Standards of Intervention and Discipline Measures.

Access Information about Their Child

2) The Department of Education and its schools are responsible for providing parents with access to their child's education records and any available information on educational programs and opportunities.

Parents have the right to:

- a) Translation and interpretation services if they require or request language assistance in order to communicate effectively with the Department, in accordance with Chancellor's Regulation A-663;
- b) Information regarding all policies, plans and regulations which require parent consultation at the school, district and/or borough level;
- c) Access to current information regarding services which are provided by the school system, eligibility requirements for these services, and how to apply for them (e.g., transportation, food services, health services, English Language Learner (ELL) instruction, remediation, special education services);
- d) Be informed about required health, cognitive and language screening examinations
- e) Information concerning expectations for their child with respect to their child's educational program, attendance and behavior;

- f) Written information regarding the grading criteria that will be used to evaluate their child's academic performance;
- g) Access to information concerning their child's instructional program, including but not limited to, course of study or curriculum;
- h) Be assured the confidentiality of their child's records, in accordance with Chancellor's Regulation A-820;
- i) Access and review their child's education records no more than 45 days from receipt of the request;
- j) Make an appointment to have their child's education records explained by designated school staff and to have such a meeting within a reasonable time after making such a request;
- k) Request that their child's education records be released to an outside agency, in accordance with Chancellor's Regulation A-820, and to withhold their contact information from institutions of higher learning and/or military recruiters;
- l) Have their child's education records sent in a timely manner to another school to which their child has transferred;
- m) Consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in their child's education records, except to the extent that Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and Chancellor's Regulation A-820 authorize disclosure without consent. One exception permitting disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials who need to review education records to fulfill their professional responsibility. Examples of school officials include NYC DOE employees (such as administrators, supervisors, teachers, other instructors, or support staff members, and people whom the NYC DOE has engaged to perform services or functions for which it would otherwise use its own employees (such as agents, contractors and consultants). Another exception permitting disclosure without consent is disclosure, upon request, to officials of another school district in which your child seeks or plans to enroll, or is already enrolled if made for purposes of your child's enrollment or transfer;
- n) File a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education if you believe the NYC DOE failed to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA are:

Family Policy Compliance Office
 U.S. Department of Education 400 Maryland Avenue, SW
 Washington, DC 20202-8520

- o) Opt out of having your child's name, date of birth and address disclosed to the U.S. Department of Education for the purpose of assisting students and families with applying for financial aid, and opt out of having your child's name, date of birth and grade level (for example, ninth grade) disclosed to the National Student Clearinghouse (an organization that provides college enrollment and graduate information to the NYC DOE).

3) Be actively involved and Engaged In the Education of Their Children

Parents have the right to be given every available opportunity for meaningful participation in their child's education.

Parents have the right to:

- a) Feel welcomed, respected, and supported in their school communities.;
- b) Be treated with courtesy and respect by all school personnel, and to be accorded all rights without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, gender, age, ethnicity, alienage/citizenship status, marital status, partnership status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or disability ;

- c) Participate in regular written or verbal communication with teachers and other school staff and share concerns regarding their child's academic, social and behavioral progress;

All Parents Are Responsible For:

- a) Sending their child to school ready to learn.
- b) Ensuring that their child attends school regularly and arrives on time
- c) Being aware of their child's work, progress, and problems by reading school notices, talking to their child about school, reviewing their child's work and progress reports, and meeting with school staff.
- d) Maintaining verbal and/or written contact with their child's teachers and principal about the progress of their child's education.

- e) Adhering to all school policies and applicable Chancellor's Regulations that pertain to their children's education.
- f) Responding in a timely manner to communications from their child's school.
- g) Attending all meetings and conferences requested by the school that pertain to their child.
- h) Entering the school building in a respectful manner, refraining from disruptive behavior and treating all members of the school community with courtesy and respect.
- i) Ensuring that the school is updated with accurate contact information (e.g., home address, telephone number).

Parents Should Also

- a) Provide a supportive home setting where education is a priority.
- b) Reinforce the importance of acquiring the knowledge, skills and values needed to function effectively in society.
- c) Volunteer time, skills, or resources in the school.
- d) Take part in school and community programs that empower parents to participate in educational decision-making.
- e) Become active members of the school's Parent Association or Parent-Teacher association.
- f) Become active members of the Title I parent committee, where applicable.
- g) Question their child about school work, attendance, and behavior and discuss what is expected by the school.
- h) Teach their child to respect the property, safety, and rights of others and the importance of refraining from intimidating, harassing or discriminatory behavior.
  - a. It is the policy of the New York City Department of Education to provide equal educational opportunities without regard to actual or perceived race, color, religion, age, creed, ethnicity, national origin, alienage, citizenship status, disability, sexual orientation, gender (sex) or weight.
  - b. It is also the policy of the DOE to maintain an environment free of harassment on the basis of any of these grounds, including sexual harassment.
